Resources

TADA! Resources

Download this page (PDF)

Tactile world-building is an ongoing adventure. During and beyond this TADA! map, we invite exploration of various other tactile adventures, such as:

- BlindSVG.com — Marco Salsiccia's guide to nonvisual computer design using SVG
- Marconius.com/svg — Marco Salsiccia's personal SVG projects and downloadable code
- BTactile — tactile files repository
- Dimensions Lab — Andrew Heiskell Braille and Talking Book Library (NYPL)
- Minh Ha — tactile coloring books and tiles
- Ka Li — National Network for Equitable Library Service (NNELS)
- MAD Lab — Lighthouse for the Blind and Visually Impaired, San Francisco
- Makers Making Change — Neil Squire
- Neal McKenzie's tactile teaching aides, math a11y, and lessons
- PIAF Teaching Aids
- Mountain Lakes Public Library Makerspace — Ian Coleman
- Sensational Books — Ann Cunningham
- See3D — Caroline Karbowski
- Abigale Stangl, Ph.D — Georgia Institute of Technology
- Advanced Activities Section C: 3D Printable STEM Resources

Printables

- For Steps End
- Forward
- If There is a Wall in Front of Me
- Turn Left-Turn Right

Previous: Foreword · Next: Adventure Map · Home: Home